Administration

Paul Godfrey-Principal

As the flurry caused by last year's budget cuts and bussing problems dies down, Mr. Godfrey can finally resume the responsibilities befitting his position.

Most students view the principals and deans as authoritarians who are to be feared and avoided at all costs. However, these men's and women's responsibilities extend beyond checking for lunch passes and signing suspension forms. They essentially manage every aspect of University Highschool, from textbooks and the student store to Permit With Transfer and SWAS. Although there are occasional inconveniences, Uni stands alone as one of the best schools in the city.

Counselors

The counselors at Uni develop the curriculums and everything else that affects the student's education. If you can't see your counselor at your leisure, maybe it's because he or she is counseling another on their career choice; or maybe they are programming a new student. They could also be preparing a number of transcripts for delivery to colleges all over the country. Leave a note, and maybe your counselor will get in touch with you in between organizing the Bilingual Programs and Survey and sending summons to any seniors who have to take the TOPICS test.

Fine Art

At Uni, creativity is stressed as shown through various artistic achievements of Uni students. What better way to develop this creativity than to take a fine arts class from one of the school's excellent art teachers. Classes range from ceramics where students have the opportunity to make pots and sculptures which may be good enough to be displayed in the Administration Building, to Photography where students learn the correct way to shoot, and then have the opportunity to learn how to develop then print the pictures they have taken.

Practical Art

As the title suggests, practical art classes are taken for practicality. Unlike fine arts, students work with saws, food, and printing presses. By learning how to draft or how to work with electrical equipment, students are able to learn by experience, rather than by words, blackboards, and textbooks.

The Practical Arts department stresses the vocational skills because students need them in addition to academic skills.

Business

When a student hits college, he may be surprised to learn that he has to turn in a type-written paper. Therein lies the importance of having typing in the Business department at Uni. In addition to teaching students how to type, Business also offers courses in accounting, shorthand, and business English. Since business is a popular major in college, and eventually a popular career, more and more people are trying to get business credit in high school by taking more than the required amount of courses.

English

Tenth-grade English, Contemporary Composition, American Literature, and Expository Composition are all required for graduation. But with more teachers than any other department, Uni's English department offers a lot more classes than just the required ones. There are English Literature, Modern Literature, World Literature, and Popular Literature, with genres ranging from existentialism to romanticism and authors such as Chaucer, Lawrence, Conrad, Tolstoi, and even Alex Haley.

But literature classes aren't the only electives offered. There is drama, journalism, and Annual Production, which produce the school plays, the Warrior, and the Chieftain.

Foreign Languages

There is more to a foreign language class than grammar exercises, vocabulary drills, and conjugating verbs. Once beyond "basic dialogue" sentences, a student may be introduced to the more cultural aspects of the country whose language he is studying. Spanish students may study the literary works of such classical authors as Lorca, Borges, and Unanumo; and French students may study the works of Gide, Rousseau, or Sartre. In German or Russian classes, students may discuss the culture or current events of the countries of Europe. These studies give students an insight into the language they are studying and allow them to connect word with idea.

Mathematics

We are approaching the age in which machines may take over and do all the work, but the Math department at Uni is putting them into good use. The Math Lab and pocket calculators supplement the usual pencil pushing in math classes. If anything, they do not cause students to avoid mathematical processes, but rather allow them to get closer to the real thinking core of the material that math encompasses.

As we know, physical education is an endangered subject. The classes which are now in jeopardy are populated mainly by tenth graders, because of the fact that as an eleventh or twelfth grader, one is not required to take P.E. except as an elective.

Physical education is an important subject. It is the kind of class that keeps our mind and body in harmony. It takes us to our limit and rewards us with the strength to endure even longer the next time around. Most of all, it promotes sportsmanship and the will to win for all who choose to participate.

Science

Uni has one of the best and most diversified Science departments in the L.A. School System. A myriad of topics are available to the student, ranging from Earth Sciences to Physics to Physiology. In addition, many levels of difficulty, spanning from remedial to advanced placement, are offered. The staff has well over 100 years of total teaching experience. Both Mr. Bonorris and Mr. Payton have over 20 years of teaching behind them and have earned the respect and admiration of many people. Uni's Science department sets a firm foundation for further learning.

Whether it's Mr. Lindop's Turbulent Thirties or Mr. Gilbert's congressional simulations, the social studies department is hard at work bringing a third dimension to the lectures and textbooks used in the United States, European, Ancient Civilizations, Psychology, Comparative Ideologies, Government, and any other Social Studies classes offered at Uni.

This semester the department welcomes the arrival of Mrs. Shaw, Mr. Pellow, and Mrs. Blackmore to the staff. With the new teachers, the Social Studies department hopes to continue the variety of courses and the first-class education that they have had for years.

SWAS

SWAS, (School Within A School) is a program designed for bright, self-motivated, A and B level students, searching for more in a classroom setting than academics. SWAS provides for enriched, interpersonal relationships among the the three SWAS teachers, Tom Anderson, Bruce Gilbert, and Roslyn Farhi, and the students themselves. SWAS has an "open door policy" during lunch and nutrition, providing SWAS students with a place to eat or talk with the SWAS teachers and students.

The SWAS program now meets only two periods a day, instead of five as in previous years, and has just three teachers instead of five or six. Yet these two hours still allow ample time for guest speakers, field trips, films and interdisciplinary subject/topical discussions. The SWAS program has proven to be extremely beneficial for many of Uni's students.

Tri-School

Tri-School is a unique educational concept for a group of Uni's incoming Tenth-graders who sign up in the ninth grade and are chosen by their grades to be in the program. Tri-School is housed in the Classroom Building, takes up second, third, and fourth periods, and includes Biology with George Bonorris and Paul Lund; English with Helena Katz and Suzanne McWhirter; and Math with Donald Checchi and Martin Solig. A flexible schedule is used to obtain the maximum from the three period block. Tri-Schoolers leave the tenth grade with a large set of new and old friends and a firm beginning in high school.

ESL

A student coming from Japan or Iran will find English one of the hardest languages to learn. This is why ESL, English as a Second Language, is such an indespensible program at Uni. In order for these foreign students to function properly in the United States, they must be able to read and write English fluently and clearly. The teachers have been very effective in their efforts as shown by the large amount of foreign students who are eventually able to enroll in regular school classes.

Robert Freyer

June Palmer

Special Education

Wilfred Baldwin

The Special Education student, besides having an individualized educational program, is involved in many school activities. These activities include; football, baseball, bowling, school services, etc... These students are, in all aspects of the word, "special".

ROP

Richard Aldriedge

Linnea Reames

With today's unemployment rate, it's comforting to know that training, geared to available jobs, can be found. Here at Uni the Regional Occupation Programs, commonly called ROP, have been instrumental in helping students find that summer job, or to start them on a lifetime career. Also instrumental in this program is it's coordinator, Ms. Linnea Reames. Through her efforts, it is possible for many courses such as cosmotology, masonary, or bank telling to be offered. RPO provides education on a more individual basis where students can study and participate in what they would like to do.

Seniors

Seniors At Work . . .

With college just around the corner, seniors have to buckle down to achieve the grades they need. Many seniors find it difficult to ward off the everpresent "Senior-itis", yet when they do, they get great results-just look at the class of 82's over-all grade-point-average-it's one of the highest ever!

. . . Seniors At Play

However, all work and no play makes people very dull, as the saying goes, so seniors also find ample opportunity to have a good time!

Annual Production

With the start of the brand new school year, there was also a new Annual Production class and a new advisor, Mr. Duffy, replacing Mr. Keogel, who became English Department Chairmen. Unbeknownst to the class and to Mr. Duffy, there was an incredible amount of work involved, including making lay-outs, writing copy, and choosing the perfect shots for certain sections in the yearbook.

Despite missing a deadline or three, the staff persevered to create the masterpiece you are now holding.

Annual Production Staff for first semester included:
Princess Sykes, Kelli Pryor, Mark Pindler, Greg Goldstein, Joe Bratter, Jennifer Morrison, Jill McCauley, Daniel O'Connor, Danielle Rose, Kelly Mayhew, Robyn Brody, Reggie Hunter, Scott Lucas, Kenny Markman, Angie Dominguez, Phil Leibovitz, Sharokh Entesham, Randy Sauser, Yasemin Guyven, Wendy Armstrong, Angi Arcuri.

While the Warrior may never give the Washington Post cause to worry, Uni's student-run paper is, nevertheless, a respected publication in its own right, having garnered throughout the years many prestigious awards given to high school journalists. The Warrior, one of the few high school papers published on a weekly basis, is designed, written and edited completely by students who search their sources in order to bring the best stories to the Student Body. This year staff members traveled to San Francisco where they competed with journalists from across the country.

BOWLING CLUB

The Uni High Bowling Club completed its fourth consecutive successful semester of interschool competition under the sponsorship of Mr. Leos and Mr. Duffy, who had to leave the club to attend night college classes. The league decided to continue unsponsored. At the end of the semester Awesome II emerged victorious, and Gimme A Quarter squeaked into second on the last day. Highlights of the semester included Charles Luskin's 670 high series as well as a fine 254 game by Greg Goldstein.

JUNIORS

Sixteen springs and sixteen summers gone now
Cartwheels turn to car wheels through the town
And they tell him take your time it won't be long now
Till you drag your feet to slow the circle down

HOMECOMING KING/QUEEN: Scott Garell and Laurie Bakeman

HOMECOMING

Homecoming has always been a high point for Uni and this year was no exception. With "L.A.'s the Place" as the theme, many of the 17 floats in the parade displayed different assets of our city; from the Senior's winning float crowning Venice to the Cross Country's team's enthusiastic anticipation of the 1984 Olympics. The Varsity and Bee football teams both contributed to the current of electricity with the Bee's trouncing the Sheiks 30-12, and Varsity racing to their first victory 13-6.

Homecoming Dance

This year the traditional Homecoming Dance was celebrated on a good note. Both varsity and junior varsity teams had won their games the night before which set the cheerful atmosphere for the dance. The senior King and Queen and their court were officially crowned before their electors, the spectators. The queen received the tiara which was passed down for only the second time since this tradition began with last year's queen. The band, Wall of Fire supplied the dancers with great music for the night of celebration that will be long remembered.

Paper Bag Playhouse

Did you ever find yourself wandering around campus at lunch on a Wednesday with nothing to do? Well, over by Stivelman Theater, a group from Drama Production perform skits and they call it "Paperbag Playhouse". So, next time you know you have nothing to do on a Wednesday, Pack a paperbag lunch and go watch the players!

The warrior team was led by captains Tony Nickerson and Joe Pollack. Considering that they didn't have a great victory until Homecoming, they were still Sizzlin Hot guys. The homecoming game was the highlight of the entire football season, not just because it was homecoming, but because of the excellent job done by the Warrior team. Overall, the team's best was shown in this game.

No one statement can accurately describe this years exceptional Bee Football season. From the first warmups of late summer to the last post game thoughts from coaches Newman and Schatz. Although many players came out for football, the ones that lasted throughout the season brought them together. Their winning attitude was as vital to team success as the many hours of strenuous workouts.

After yet another successful season with a young team, many of the "Killer Bees" will be back next season with high hopes for a league title. With Coach Newmans knowledge and the discipline he led his team through winning seasons, next year should be better than ever.

JV Basketball: "Winning!"

This year's Junior Varsity team was one of the most talented of years past. With memorable performances by Paul Jackson (MVP) and Kent Ichiho, Uni was led to a very successful season, with victories being 13-3 overall.

Other starters who contributed greatly to the season included, Anthony Sykes, Theron Rucker, Marvin Gibson, and Anthony Atkinson. Thanks JV ...

We Are The Champions . . .

Cross Country Varsity

Left to right: Jesus Zuniga, Erik Jackson, Mike Wallace, Cliff Uzan, Mark Porter

The Varsity, led all season by returnies Erik Jackson, Mike Wallace, and newcomer Jesus Zuniga, dominated their league and proved themselves to be the best, as they were the Western League champs. The one loss they did suffer was a tough San Pedro, who were eventual Varsity city champions. As the "Three Musketeers" exchanged the lead all season, our fourth and fifth men were still in creation. Venice transfer Cliff Uzan became the fourth man, and Mark Porter began to toughen and was eventually the fifth man.

J.V.s

In the history of University High School, this was the first city championship won by the Junior Varsity cross country team. Led by Varsity hopefuls Jeff Armendariz, Nat Isaac, Bobby Stephenson, Jim Crossley and a new spark with Jack Lentz, these guys proved they were the best as they went undefeated all season. They did not do it all by themselves. With runners such as Augustus Caldwee, Mike Cohn, Steven Berstein, Lee Lamirault, Darren Hoag, and Steven Gruenwald, the team had a lot of help.

The Fresh/Soph. team had a great season as they were Western League Champs and made it all the way to the city finals. Led in the beginning of the season by Kevin Hebert, Bill Cohn took over as Hebert suffered from a foot injury. Helping Cohn out were speedster Hercy Moore, Jesper Helwig, and Kevin Holabird.

Even though the girls team lost their first dual meet ever, they had a truly successful season. With lots of talent and a little luck, Karen Nierlich and sophomore sensation Caroline Haro led the girls to the city finals, after not qualifying the year before. When not dislocating her shoulder, Maureen Craig proved to be vital as well as Eleanor Mak and sister Edith, along with Anne Gregory.

Girls' Volleyball, "Beat 'em Bust 'em That's Our Custom"

Uni's varsity team had a very successful season making it to City finals for the first time in five years, while ranked fifth in the city. Senior captain Barbara Fagan and returning power hitter Mora Kanim made all-city. Setter Julie Hoffman and hitter Ruth Heller were the only sophomores on the team. Uni did very well in passing with such great back row players as Edith Kanashiro and Lynne Wehmueller, and Wendy Hughes and Lynne Evans were great all-around players. Next year Uni will surely dominate the 4-A league.

Soccer

Placing second in the league, the University soccer team displayed their extreme effort and talent which enabled them to end the season with a record of fourteen wins, only two loses, and two ties. Special recognition goes to Louie Kish, Ronnie Cossack, and the goalies Chris Rumar and Kirk Offerele for their outstanding performance throughout the season. The team wishes to thank coach Juan Engleson for his consistent patience and time dedicated to the players.

Dear Jeff,

Well I must make a sincere vow to make plans for us to go somewhere seeing that you say I am always busy. though I haven't called you, I still feel that we are and always will be excellent friends!!! (As long as you stop with the insults) At least we don't live to far so that transportation won't be a problem. I will call you and see ya soon. Love Always, Stacy Y. A.

As the 81-82 school year comes to a close, remember the concerts, the movies, and the remember the World Series and Fernando

Remember teachers and finals and the fashions
but most of all, remember the laughter, the friends, and the fun times together . . .
